

Shabbat Shalom!

I enjoyed another chance to see and share Shabbat with you! This week, we have David Shapiro to thank for the technical behind-the-scenes work, and Josh there to assist. Rich Katz will return, we anticipate, next week.

As in past, the service was recorded as well as live, and I am posting the links here for the recordings with both audio only and video with audio.

We have arranged that if you want to pick up a copy of the Mishkan T'fillah siddur (prayer book) at the Temple and sign it out for use, we can arrange that.

Otherwise, you can access the words in our Siddur (prayer book) via this link to a flip book online version of the Mishkan T'fillah for Shabbat siddur (though many have commented that it is difficult to use online if you are watching the service).

Temple Israel building remains closed for events until it is deemed safe to open again – no meetings and no activities.

If you have any comments, criticisms, or suggestions about the format for services, please let me know, or share your thoughts with Josh Barrett, Mary Rich Maloy, or other board members. Please know that we are working hard to try to offer meaningful and uplifting services and events, and your input is valued, and most helpful in allowing us to craft them.

As always, I would love to hear from you, if you are available to chat for a few minutes - either on the phone calls, zoom meetings, or by phone, text, or email to just check in and let me know how you are doing. It can be during one of the check ins, or just let me know when you want to talk.

The BULLETIN/REMINDER Email for August was sent out on Friday, July 31. It lists all the scheduled events for the month.

On Sunday I will send a separate email with links (the LINKS Email) and details about the events in the coming week. Watch for that email to get access information.

Wishing you a Shabbat shalom, and hoping to see you online soon!

Joe
